02 / COLOR SYSTEM

COLOR	HEX	ROLE
Good Company Green	#1F3025	Hero background / primary brand color
Warm Ivory	#F4EBD8	Logo, doodles, borders, paper
Soft Cream	#FBF7ED	Light backgrounds
Muted Sage	#A4AA8D	Secondary accent only
Ink	#171914	Text / near-black

Recommended balance: roughly 60% green / 30% ivory / 5% cream / 5% accent. Use silver/chrome as a physical disco-ball material rather than making metallic gold a core digital color.

03 / TYPOGRAPHY

Logo lettering: Treat the approved logo letterforms as artwork. Do not retype or rebuild the logo for normal use.

Display font for Canva + marketing: Bodoni Moda

Use for editorial headlines, package names and large statements. Uppercase works beautifully with generous spacing.

Clean supporting font: Montserrat

Use Regular or Medium for PHOTO BOOTHS + EVENT EXPERIENCES, website copy, pricing, FAQs and small uppercase labels. Add tracking/letter spacing to short uppercase lines.

Optional handwritten accent: use sparingly. For the strongest identity, create a few genuinely hand-written phrases rather than relying on a generic script font.

04 / LOGO SYSTEM

Primary stacked logo: formal brand mark for profile graphics, print collateral, booth signage and brand introductions.

Horizontal logo: website headers, proposals, banners, email signatures and wide signage.

05 / DOODLE RULES

Approved character language: short-haired woman in a flowing dress with both arms raised; curly-haired man with glasses, a slightly fuller body, suit, pointing hand and bent dancing legs; hand-drawn disco ball above; a few small four-point sparkles.

Keep: imperfect human-drawn line quality, simple happy faces, ivory fill on green, playful movement.

Avoid: long hair, realistic illustration, oversized stars, a star directly between the couple, excessive sparkles, geometric-perfect vector lines, or changing the poses/faces from version to version.

06 / PHOTOGRAPHY DIRECTION

Sell the party, not an empty booth. Prioritize direct-flash candids, motion blur, friends squeezing into frame, hands holding strips, prints coming out of the printer, dancing, champagne, disco reflections, black-and-white booth images and slightly grainy late-night energy.

Avoid: a feed dominated by empty booth setups, generic stock party imagery, overly posed luxury content or bright trendy colors that fight the green-and-ivory identity.

07 / BRAND VOICE

Warm, social, short, lightly cheeky and never corporate-sounding.

Core line: Good photos. Good people. Good company.

Supporting phrases:

Meet us at the booth.

Let's party.

Everybody in.

One more.

Okay, now a silly one.

Take one home.

Caught in good company.

You had to be there.

Proof of a good night.

See you on the dance floor.

Avoid: "Elevate your event with our premium photo booth experience" and other generic event-industry language.

Use green covers with small ivory doodle icons; keep covers wordless when possible.

09 / PRINT + EVENT TOUCHPOINTS

Photo strips: let the client's event branding lead. Keep In Good Company subtle at the footer or back.

Booth: ivory/cream body, small dark-green wordmark, green curtain/backdrop option and silver disco-ball accents.

Collateral: QR booking cards, business cards, thank-you cards, stickers, photo-strip sleeves, guestbooks, welcome signs, prop signs, attendant badge and packaging.

Pattern system: tiny disco balls, four-point stars, hearts, photo strips and dancing-couple marks in ivory-on-green and green-on-ivory.

10 / MASTER FILE CHECKLIST

Create and keep these final production files:

- Primary stacked logo - green + ivory
- Horizontal logo - green + ivory
- Wordmark-only logo
- Doodle-only mark
- Circle badge
- Reverse green-on-ivory versions
- Transparent PNG exports
- SVG/EPS/AI vector masters
- Print-ready PDF masters
- Instagram profile icon
- 4:5 post template
- Story/Reel cover template
- Highlight icon set
- Photo-strip templates
- Color + typography reference sheet

Production rule: before ordering signage, embroidery, vinyl or large-format prints, vectorize the approved master artwork rather than regenerating it. That is how the O shapes, doodle, disco ball and spacing stay exactly the same everywhere.
